PREVIEW: Upcoming Workshop Available to All Issaquah School District Families

Do you ever wonder how to get your kids to be more responsible? Would you like to lower your stress-level and start enjoying parenting again? This workshop is for you! Love & Logic is a commonsense approach to raising responsible children by offering choices, using empathy and respect, and avoiding anger, threats, warnings and lectures.

Taught by April Stevens, Guidance Counselor at Creekside and Clark Elementary Schools and a trained Love & Logic presenter, the principles of Love & Logic are easy to learn and can be put to use right away.

Offered: Four Mondays; March 12-April 2, 2012 7:00-8:15
Location: Clark Elementary (Next Door to Issaquah High)

Workshop topics include:

- The Science of Control
- Using Empathy and Consequences to do the Teaching
- The Love & Logic formula

Optional Services:

Pre-Workshop Family Dinner 6:30-7:00 (Leave the dinner worries to us!)
Supervised Childcare 7:00-8:15 (Fun for kids; Hassle-free for parents!)

Registration Available starting January 2012. Fee based class. Scholarships available.
